

The Colonnade

Volume XVI. Z-123. Milledgeville, Ga.,

Saturday, October 4, 1941

Number 2

Gym To Be Scene Of Refugee Ball Tonight

YWCA Decroates For First Campus Dance With Patriotic Motif

The campus spotlight will fall on the gym tonight when the Refugee Ball will be held from 8 until 12 o'clock. This is an annual dance sponsored by the YWCA for the purpose of raising funds for the education of a foreign refugee student. The patriotic idea will be the theme of the ball.

This year the refugee student is a member of the sophomore class. She is Gertrude Ehrlich from Vienna, Austria.

Tickets, costing 25 cents apiece, have been sold by dormitory representatives. During the dance there will be four no-breaks, and the dormitory which has sold the most tickets will have an extra no-break.

The student representatives who have sold tickets are the ties this year will be the annual following: Mary Lanier, Mansion; meeting of the Georgia Forum, Jessie Perry Atkinson, Mayfair; composed of the forensic teams of Nancy Ragland, Sanford; Helen all Georgia colleges, and the op-

Dunn, Ennis; Helen Porter, Atkinson; Faye Hancock, Terrell; pating in five intercollegiate de- Angelyn Glisson, Terrell A; Mary Bates, with three decisions, a Martin, Terrell B and C; Beryl member of Phi Kappa Delta, na- McDaniel, Bell; Marian Sealy, tional forensic fraternity. Bell Annex; Lilyan Middlebrooks, Beeson; Loree Bartlett, faculty; Jean Stewart, home management houses; Christine Willingham, town girls; Wilma Paschal, NYA houses.

Lottie Wallace and Jane Bowden were in charge of publicity. Edith Trapnell and Cynthia Mallery were in charge of arrangements for the dance.

Out-Of-State Students State South Suits Them

By ELIZABETH REDDICK

Out-of-state students admire the South! They think our men are perfect gentlemen! Everyone is so friendly! All the out-of-state students that have joined the ranks of GSCW this year are echoing the wonders of the school and state. They have an older sister who attended this school. Yes, they like it too. Yes, they are planning to teach when into their past history! but every transfer or freshman from out-of-state is singing the praise of our school.

Mary Helm from "down Arkansas way" came to GSCW because they finish. Yes, they think highly of her sister, Eloise, is a senior here; and her sister came because a friend came; and the friend came because her brother went to Georgia Tech. Anyway, the reason she came is quite complicated, and so far we've been unable to get the connection between Tech and GSC. The point is—Mary is here now!

Florida has always been known to do things in a big way, and so instead of one Booth (and we don't mean chairs), we find two of them attending school this fall. Nannalee and Ruth stood with that puzzle Nancy. Our speech to Calhoun October 3 for the dis-

(Continued On Page 4)

Parent's Day Hugh Hodgson Gives First Set For Oct. 18 Appreciation Hour Wed.

Parent's Day, an annual event of the GSCW calendar, will be celebrated this year October 18. This function is sponsored by the Granddaughters club and the Alumnae association.

The time preceding eleven o'clock will be used for registering the parents at the individual dormitories. The first two periods of classes will meet as usual. At eleven o'clock students and visitors are invited to attend the program in Russell auditorium. Plans for the program will be announced later.

Dinner will be served on front campus to all guests for the day. The dormitories will be open so that parents and friends may see GSCW in real life.

A prize will be given by the Granddaughter's club to the dormitory which registers the greatest number of parents. This will be based on a percentage basis. Last year's winner was Bell Annex.

Parent's Day was inaugurated eight years ago when Miss Louise Smith, a present member of the GSCW faculty, was president of the Alumnae association and sponsor of the club. Since that time it has been the custom of the Granddaughters to annually be hostesses to the parents of GSCW girls.

Vacancies Filled By Y Cabinet

At a meeting of the Y Cabinet, Wednesday, October 1, elections were held to fill vacancies created when several members elected last year failed to return to the campus this fall. Annie Ruth McCormick will direct publicity, including general newspaper publicity for the Y and that connected with the various institutes through the year. Mary Jeff Whelchel will have charge of morning watch and evening watch in all the dormitories.

GSC Faculty Attends GEA

The state districts of the GEA are holding their fall meetings. The Seventh District met in Athens, September 29. Those attending from GSCW were Miss Nina Caldwell and Mrs. Willie Thornton. As an opportunity to come to the South, she chose GSCW as her school. In her own words, "Why, I heard it was a Mary Lee Anderson attended the Ninth District meeting.

Dr. W. T. Wynn, Miss Mary Di-

To get down to technicalities, mon; Mrs. Mildred Cooper, and though, there are a few things Mrs. Sara Davis Dewberry went speech to Calhoun October 3 for the dis-

(Continued On Page 2)

CGA Elects Hall, Fiveash, Moore

Student council met Tuesday night, September 30. At this time vacancies were filled for class and CGA offices.

Mary Fiveash was named corresponding secretary for CGA to replace Nancy Green who is not in school here this year.

Neil Moore was chosen treasurer of the junior class to replace Gayle Rankin who did not return.

Hugh Hodgson, head of the music department at the University of Georgia will open the Music Appreciation hour on the GSCW campus this year. Mr. Hodgson will play the piano and explain the various aspects of his program. The program will be held Wednesday night, Oct. 8, in Russell auditorium at 8 o'clock.

The hour is sponsored by the GSCW lyceum and entertainment committee with Mr. Max Noah as chairman. Each Wednesday night from 8 until 9 o'clock, a program of music, art, lecture, or dramatic art will be given by musicians and lecturers who are specialists in their particular fields.

The purpose of these programs is to give an opportunity to the students and faculty of GSCW, and members of the city of Milledgeville to see the artists in person, to learn better how to listen and appreciate the classics of music and literature.

There is no charge for these programs. All the committee asks is that you come on time, express your appreciation by loud and long applause and attend regularly.

His program will include the following selections:

Allemande, d'Albert; Gavotte, and Musette, d'Albert; Sonate in b minor, Scarlatti; Sonate in d minor, Scarlatti; Allegro Brise (Sonate in B flat), Schytte; Nocturne in c flat minor, Chopin; Mazurka in c flat minor, Chopin; Valse in c flat minor, Chopin; Polonaise in c flat minor, Chopin; Concert Etude, Liszt; Tarantella, Liszt.

Concert

Association

I.R.C. Meets

Opens Drive Monday Oct. 6

The principal interests of the International Relations Club is current events. This club meets once a month under the supervision of Miss Helen Green of the social science department who is faculty advisor.

To be eligible for this club a student must have an average of B in all subjects and 88 in social science. However, there are associate members and their average requirements are B in all subjects. Invitations will be extended soon to those eligible and interested.

There will be a call meeting of all members next Monday night Oct. 6 in 113, Education building at seven o'clock.

Monday, Oct. 13, marks the beginning of the annual membership campaign for the Milledgeville Cooperative Concert Association. The campaign will continue for two weeks through Oct. 26. The more memberships sold, the better will be the programs brought to the campus.

Under the direction of the College Government Association, one or more students will have charge of every dormitory on the campus to sell memberships to the association. Student tickets will be $1.50 plus 15c Federal tax. For this amount four outstanding artists, to be selected by the association, will be presented. Every student is urged to purchase her ticket as no single admissions will be available.

More Defense Cooperation Letter To The Editor

We are glad to see that the University of Georgia has announced plans to open a course in First Aid and give college credit for same. We found that our course given by the American Red Cross in First Aid was very successful last spring. Fifty girls received certificates from the national headquarters.

It is with pleasure that we find that other colleges in our state are going to cooperate with the defense program, and we are wishing the University "good luck" on their new class.

To Our Liking

This week one of the Atlanta papers informed Georgia that the registration of GSCW has fallen off far below last year's enrollment. A decrease of 179 students or less will have no great effect on our classes of campus activities.

All the colleges of Georgia, private and state, are somewhat low on total enrollment this fall. Final figures estimated by Registrar R. W. Reed would show that the University will be approximately 200 or 300 students under last year's total.

Georgia Teachers' College at Statesboro shows an enrollment of 200 less than normal. These are a few of the Georgia schools but the consensus of opinion is that schools all over the country are decreasing in enrollments. Some colleges have even removed entrance examinations for freshmen in order to keep up their enrollment.

GSCW is not down in proportion to the rest of the country if we are to believe Time Magazine.

There are many reasons for all colleges to be smaller. The draft has taken a large number of the male students with low scholastic averages. Positions are open to all men who are not drafted and this takes many of college age. Girls may secure employment with little or no training during these times.

That GSCW is concerned over the lack of less than 200 students on the campus is true. We are concerned because we hope our number will continue to diminish for several years. Our student body has been too large. This year housing facilities are better than they have ever been. There are very few three or four girl rooms on the campus and nearly all of these are by choice.

Too many students have been on our campus in the past. We do not want quantity, we want (as the old saying goes) quality.

At least twenty-five new students came to the Colonnade meeting last Monday. Let's hope they don't drop out before next weeks meeting!

The campus has become familiar to the new students by the date chosen for Parents' Day. They can point out places of interest with some degree of knowledge to their parents. At the occasion the faculty is on hand, and you can be sure that they meet your visitors.

It is a day each year set aside for the students and their parents. Write home immediately and ask your family to be your guests for Parents' Day.

A Real Opportunity

Have you chosen your vocation yet? If you have—good, but the question of "What will I do when I graduate from college" is often expressed on the campus. This year College government—that means every girl on the campus, not just a small group of girls—is sponsoring a Vocational Institute. It is the first institute CGA has presented.

No one is going to try to persuade you to come but it will be three main programs in the auditorium and several small personal talks in Beeson Rec Hall.

The date set for the institute was chosen early in the fall quarter so that frosh who are undecided about their majors and minors, transfers and seniors could make arrangements for future study if new fields of interest were opened to them.

The speakers for the institute are thoroughly familiar with their fields. The speaker for Tuesday is the authority on vocations in the United States. She is coming from Washington, D. C. from the federal government. Her discussions will not be in vague terms, but she actually knows requirements, salaries, and locations for the more obsolete positions. Time will be given to positions that will be open to women in the next five years.

Come to all the meetings because it is something for the students and sponsored by the students.

O'Connor Describes Astor Rise to Riches in New Novel

By DOROTHY MILLER

In THE ASTORS Harvey O'Connor has given us a scholarly and yet thoroughly fascinating study of one of America's most notable families. Only in America is there the opportunity for a person to rise from a lowly immigrant to a millionaire—(name, by the way, coincided as a result of old John Jacob Astor's rise) within a generation.

The English branch of the Astor family who was to leave millions to Vincent Astor, the sports-minded heir of the Astor millions who supports President Roosevelt and the Democratic Party in opposition to all the previous generations of Republican Astors, Mr. O'Connor presents a graphic, moving and very readable story of the Astor family.

Beginning with the immigration of John Jacob from Waldorf, German and tracing his wanderings first to London where he worked in his brother's music store to his first appearance on the American scene as a beater of furs, one of the lowest paid jobs in the fur business, Mr. O'Connor gives a clear, though brief account of his amazing rise in the fur trade. Continuing his account of the Astors each generation of the family is presented to the reader against a background of history showing the development of New York City—another Astor investment. The Smith, and Miss Lena Martin opening of the Waldorf and later attend the meeting held at the Warner Brothers' Studio in California this summer?

A freshman just couldn't understand why chapel was not held in Chappell hall. Did you hear that Mildred Covin was privileged to see the complete set of "Hurricane" at the Warner Brothers' Studio in California this summer?

A freshman who was serving a table of seniors last week, told them that if they wait until she had turned the tablecloth to insure their complete happiness.

GSC Faculty

By Blanche Layton

The seniors are hard at work on their code.

Thirty-five students turned out for Tuesday night's orchestra practice.

Try-outs for Jesters were held on Thursday and Friday afternoons and nights of this week.

One little freshman just couldn't understand why chapel was not held in Chappell hall.

Did you hear that Mildred Covin was privileged to see the complete set of "Hurricane" at the Warner Brothers' Studio in California this summer?

A freshman who was serving a table of seniors last week, told them that if they wait until she had turned the tablecloth to insure their complete happiness.

Annual Day

(Continued from page 1)

at the meeting held there.

Dr. Earl Walden, Miss Hallie Smith, and Miss Lena Martin opening of the Waldorf and later attend the meeting held at the Warner Brothers' Studio in California this summer?

A tradition is a tradition. That's the explanation of Parent's Day. But there is more than just the name. Each year the students invite their parents to the campus, it is an opportunity for you to show the visitors just what the spirit of your school is.

They may rave about our slight decrease in student enrollment but we as students are glad for the opportunity of perhaps knowing a larger per cent of our student body. With the present world troubles and the places of many

The new students who are eligible for membership in the D. A. R. Citizenship Club are: Rachel Dickey, Mary Anne Williams, Myrna Brookins, Mary Hancock, Anne Bradford, Ruth Ritchie, Jane Harrell, Virginia Way, Frances Meadows, Gwendolyn Smalley, and Clyde Ellen Langley.

The Music department is trying hard for the re-organization of the band. This time it will meet only once a week.

Another freshman was all prepared to have her physical examination in the physical education building last Tuesday.

Virginia Collar and Jane Ragsdale almost cried on Wednesday because Dr. Boesen wouldn't let them put their Latin sentences on the board.

These seniors just can't get accustomed to the buzzer system in Sanford Hall. Last Monday night it buzzed for eleven o'clock, and in a couple of minutes Rosemary Ewing was in her housecoat on her way to the office.

If you hear a lot of girls singing all around, they're getting ready for try-outs for the various choirs. Reporters: Blanche Layton, Dot Miller, Sue Landrum, Jeanne Peterson, Ruth Pearman, Margaret Wilson.

The Colonnade

Published weekly during school year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of the Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Georgia. Subscription price $1.00 per year. Entered as second-class matter October 30, 1928, in the post office, Milledgeville, Georgia, under the act of March 3, 1879.

The Music department is trying hard for the re-organization of the band. This time it will meet only once a week.

Another freshman was all prepared to have her physical examination in the physical education building last Tuesday.

Virginia Collar and Jane Ragsdale almost cried on Wednesday because Dr. Boesen wouldn't let them put their Latin sentences on the board.

These seniors just can't get accustomed to the buzzer system in Sanford Hall. Last Monday night it buzzed for eleven o'clock, and in a couple of minutes Rosemary Ewing was in her housecoat on her way to the office.

If you hear a lot of girls singing all around, they're getting ready for try-outs for the various choirs. Reporters: Blanche Layton, Dot Miller, Sue Landrum, Jeanne Peterson, Ruth Pearman, Margaret Wilson.

Saturday, October 4, 1941.

THE COLONNADE

Tentative Plans For Year Are Announced By YWCA

By MARY BREWTON

The YWCA has recently completed plans for many of the outstanding activities of the year. President Mary Jeanne Everitt and Miss Cynthia Mallory, Y secretary, hope that these plans will prove successful and the Y will mean more to GSCW students than ever before.

The first project, the Refugee Ball, has been scheduled for Saturday night, Oct. 4. The object of the ball is to make it possible for GSCW to offer this year as before a scholarship to a refugee student who is now on the campus.

It was such a perfectly gorgeous week to see all the dainty dresses the summer had left the freshmen with. I think I'd better mention for Religious Emphasis Week. During these now, for a few weeks or so, they'll be carefully placed away until next spring.

Pan Lott looked very cool and clean in a white waffle weave fitted dress with red and blue nautical buttons going kitty-corner across the blouse. And, of course it couldn't be new without a full skirt.

Ruth Orr believes in these gathered skirts, too, for she was reading the bulletin in one of the sky blue silk shantung. With this, she wore a white long-sleeved chiffon blouse with lace trimmings.

The Institute of Personal Relations will be held Dec. 1-6. Mrs. George Sloane Overton will be one of the speakers.

The Institute of Human Relations has been planned for the latter part of January. Lectures and forums on international problems will be scheduled during this week. The speakers have not yet been selected.

The Y executives hope that GSCW will be hostess to the College Preaching Mission next spring. The mission is sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches and will feature lectures and forums on man and woman relationships and international relationships.

The long torso is quite the thing. Jo Hood has a dress with a lengthy torso of white embroidered eyelet and a yellow and black ingham skirt and sleeves. The neckline was square.

Carolyn Fain enjoyed a coke at Thompson's Drug Store in a blue and white stupid silk rayon full skirt plus a white silk shirt with blue studs. She wore a silver spoon at the neck of the shirt.

Chambray is still in full sway. Roslyn Bynum met a "Jimmy" at Tommies' in a pink and white striped chambray with rick-rack across top of the blouse and sleeves. A tight waistband fitted it snugly to her, and round neckline was most becoming. To get in and out there was a long zipper down the back.

Three girls a week whose names are drawn from a hat containing names of the entire student body, should present this ad with their name on it to the manager and it will serve as a ticket. But the only way to make sure you are not passing up a chance to see a picture you have been wanting to see is to follow the campus ad regularly.

GSCW faculty and Peabody School faculty will be admitted to shows at student prices.

Others recently ordered are I Was A Nazi Flyer by Gettified, Leake, There Shall Be No Night by Robert E. Sherwood, and Low Man On A Totem Pole by H. Alen Smith.

The Penguin club will meet Monday night at 8:00 in the swimming pool balcony. All members are urged to be present.

There will be a meeting of the Colonnade staff, Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, in the Colonnade office. Everyone be sure to come.

The Institutional Management club will meet Monday night, October 6 in the college tea room.

University of North Carolina which opened its doors in January, 1795, is the oldest state University in point of operation.

Home Ec. Sends

14 Apprentice

Teachers Out

This quarter 14 students from GSCW are putting all their educational theories to a practical test. Just in case somebody would like to send them a word of encouragement, here's where they are:

A La Mode

Beth Williams and Mary Powell are at Madison; Elizabeth Pope and Ernestine Wynn, at Bowman; Nelli Craft and Helen Haulbrook, at Eatonton; Mary Jane Clarke and Miriam Kitchen, at Midway; Douglas Mercer, Jessie Lamb, and Henrietta McCord, at Peabody; Lena Belle Kay, at Vidalia; Doris Lane and Rosa Knight, at Metter.

Granddaughters Have Party

The Granddaughters club was hostess at a party Tuesday night from 7:15 until 8:00 in Beeson recreation hall honoring the new granddaughters on the campus.

Parent's Day was discussed. Games and singing completed the evening's program.

The new officers were introduced. They are: Ruth Adams, president; Eleanor Jane Thornton, vice-president; Lilyan Middlebrooks, secretary; and Greta Bell, treasurer. Miss Helen Green, vice-president of the Alumnae association, is the faculty sponsor for the club.

All girls whose mothers or grandmothers attended GSCW are invited to join the group. The necklace was square.

Carolyn Fain enjoyed a coke at Thompson's Drug Store in a blue and white stupid silk rayon full skirt plus a white silk shirt with blue studs. She wore a silver spoon at the neck of the shirt.

Chambray is still in full sway. Roslyn Bynum met a "Jimmy" at Tommies' in a pink and white striped chambray with rick-rack across top of the blouse and sleeves. A tight waistband fitted it snugly to her, and round neckline was most becoming. To get in and out there was a long zipper down the back.

Newman club met Friday afternoon, October 3, at 5:00 at the rectory. Two new members were enrolled.

The Corinthian is anxious to have students with interest and ability to work on the art, circulation, business, and editorial staffs. Invitations will be extended to upper classmen to fill vacancies on the staff next week and to students who are on the campus for the first time this year after the fall issue. Watch for further information!

Church Notes

Baptist

Sunday School—10:15.

Church—11:30.

The Corinthian is anxious to have students with interest and ability to work on the art, circulation, business, and editorial staffs. Invitations will be extended to upper classmen to fill vacancies on the staff next week and to students who are on the campus for the first time this year after the fall issue. Watch for further information!

Vocation Books

At Library

A collection of vocational books including both fiction and biography is now on display in the library.

The display correlates with the Vocational Institute which will be held Monday and Tuesday. Speakers for the occasion will be Chief Justice Charles Reid of the Georgia Supreme Court.

House presidents elected include Evelyn Oldham at Moore, Delle Williams at Lasseter, Sarah Dash at Town, Evelyn Whitten, at new students with the officers, Jons, and Hester Day at Barnes.

The project magazine, NY Advertiser, The main talk will be venture was published in September made by Nancy Ragland, after her.

Major Hope from GMC will sing a special solo.

Sunday School—10:00.

Church—11:30.

The NYA girls, and their in-college personnel, and welcome any of you to their five houses at any time you can come.

'41 Practice Teaching Victims

Are '42 School Marms

By ARAMINTA GREEN

So you too have noticed this recent combination in some of the upper classmen: straggling hair (from much pulling), hose, bitten nails, record books. Yep you dropped your guess in the right slot. It's this quarter's crop of practice teachers.

There are seventy-three of them intensely trained to become the 1942 school marms. This number includes music, home economics, grammar school, and high school practice teachers and four cadet teachers.

By the way, last spring the mamma of one GSCW girl caucioned her daughter not to be too hasty in planning to do cadet teaching. Said mama, "You always were overly interested in uniforms. Don't let them mislead you."

From the condition of coiffure, leggings, books and nail this bit is evident—new teachers do have worries. After visiting her Modern Problems class she will teach.

You, Freshmen—Since most of you probably haven't seen a copy of the Corinthian yet, and since the Corinthian has never before taken a three-day self-inflicted course in journalism. That Dr. Pepper addict bouncing around Peabody practice school in the afternoons is Johnny Mac Frizelle. She's learned that the tattered pupils are the peppier a teacher must be.

Speaking of lessons learned, a tenth grade practitioner has discovered

Never A Dull Moment, Say Home Management Girls

By SUE LANDRUM

No doubt each of you have heard the tale that when a man looks for a wife he looks for one who knows how to cook—just to be literal, of course. But these home economics seniors who have lived in either Vinson or Tigner House explanatory, but include laundry, are experts in all forms of home-making, meal planning, and personal work, too.

There's a nice weird tale, ghostly too, about Vinson House that's convenient for kitchen snatchers. Breakfast-in-bed is a privilege really worth hearing, so lend me your ears... There are two beautiful oils that hang over the living and dining room mantles respectively, of a handsome man and a beautiful lady. As the story goes, the man was desperately in love with the lady, and the budding courtship ended when a villain sneaked up to a window and shot the lady in the back. When the girls who live in the house pushed up the windows in either the living room or the sitting room and turn their backs for a minute, the windows slowly, ghostly close. The traditional tale is that the lady come back and closes the windows to protect her lover.

Six senior girls enjoy the homey atmosphere of the house every six weeks, together with the advisor, who is a member of the home ec faculty. The girls' rotating duties include Manager, cook, assistant cook, house keeper, assistant house keeper and hostess. Their duties are self students wishing to secure additional practice in such sports as archery, badminton, and golf for 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. on Saturday name added to the roll.

Overtime—A fine of 10 cents for each bicycle must be imposed for short periods of time other than class time, within campus limits for keeping equipment overtime. This is in addition to rental fee.

following conditions:

Students must sign with attendant both when taking out and checking in equipment on special blank provided for the purpose. Students are responsible for returning equipment in good condition. Losses must be replaced.

Bicycles and roller skates. Rental fee—10 cents for every hour. Hours for rental—4:00 to 6:00 p.m. (Every day except Sunday):

Ready to Serve You
Ennis Hotel
Special rates for GSCW Guests

For some real first-hand information about the mishaps, fun, and personal jokes, a peep in the diary at Vinson House would be worth your while.

The speaker for chapel Tuesday will be Mrs. Margaret Zepolean, a specialist from the U. S. Department of Education. Cards will be passed out Monday morning in chapel to determine what vocations are most popular and then Mrs. Zepolean will meet with small groups determined by these cards for group discussions Tuesday evening.

Odorless Cleaning
One Day Service
Phone 5126

Hall Music Co.
All the Latest
Phonograph Records
Always at
"The Record Shop"

HURRY! 7 1/2 x 9 1/2"

100 LONG HITS

SONG BOOK

FREE

with the purchase of a bottle of PARKER Quink

Quink at only 15¢

No box tops to send—no waiting—just get this quick-drying, pen-cleaning ink at your retailer's and receive your Song Book right then and there!

We might have known that such a swell offer would soon exhaust retailers' supplies, but we didn't dream it would happen so fast. If you don't find any left at the first store, try a second. But act without delay, to be safe.

And when you fill your pen with Parker Quink, be sure to try it without a blotter. See how fast it dries ON PAPER—31% quicker than average of 4 others. And see how beautifully your pen works—a Parker or ANY OTHER. For Quink contains a secret agent that dissolves deposits left by pen-clogging inks. That's really why we created Quink—to guard pens from sediment and gum that stop the flow.

Quink will help keep your pen in your hands and out of repair shops.

To induce you to try it, we are giving Disney's Song Book FREE when you buy Quink for 15 cents. Better clip out this announcement as a reminder. It's probably your last chance.

The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin.

6 DUMBO Lyrics included

Look Out For Mr. Stork
Candy Jumbo
Baby Mine
I've Seen Everything
Song of the Roustabouts and 94 other Favorites by these and other authors.

© Walt Disney Productions

Copyright 1941, LUCILLE & MARY CO.

The General Board of the Recreation Association will have its first meeting Monday night, October 6, at 7:15. Every manager, skill club resident, and officer of the association is required to attend.

Try Our
Fountain

Fraley's Pharmacy

SEE AIRSHOW

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 5th

At 2:00 P. M.

GSCW students will be permitted to go and furnished transportation. Tickets are now on sale on the campus

Lend me a Minute
and I'll give you back 15 seconds

Says PAUL DOUGLAS,
well-known radio announcer

Somebody whistles a few bars of a catchy tune.
Others pick it up.
Soon the whole country's whistling it. It's a hit.

Somebody lights up a cigarette.
Likes it. Passes the word along.
Soon the whole country's smoking it.
It's a hit. IT'S CHESTERFIELD.

The big thing that's pushing Chesterfield ahead
Is the approval of smokers like yourself.
Chesterfields are definitely Milder,

Cooler-Smoking and Better-Tasting.
They're made of the world's best cigarette tobaccos
Blended just right to give you more smoking pleasure.

But even these facts wouldn't count
If smokers didn't just naturally like them.
Once a smoker finds out from Chesterfield
What real smoking pleasure is, nothing else will do.
Yes, fellow smokers, IT'S YOUR APPROVAL
THAT'S PUSHING CHESTERFIELD AHEAD.

Everywhere you go they satisfy